Maps and Transportations

Melbourne has an extensive public transport system of buses, trains and trams. As Melbourne is a well-planned city it is easy to travel in by car. Cars travel on the left side of the road. Drivers can use their home country licenses for three months from the date of entry to Australia. An international license can be used provided the license from the country of origin is also valid.

Information about life in Melbourne, Australia

About Melbourne

Melbourne is the capital city of the State of Victoria and built around the shores of Port Philip Bay. The city itself, laid out in a large rectangle and boasting a lively and cosmopolitan pulse, sits on the northern banks of the Yarra River, about five kilometres from the bay. Melbourne is a relatively modern city which is less than 200 years old and never sits still. New futuristic designs add to the fascinating mix of architecture and ensure the skyline is constantly changing. Melbourne is very much about lifestyle. It is no huge surprise to residents that their city has been ranked as one of the world's most liveable cities. Melbournians embrace three things in particular:

Sport (Australian Rules football is almost a religion);

Fashion (the look is chic with a dash of quirky); and Festivals (the calendar is packed year round).

They even embrace their notoriously changeable weather. A standing joke in Australia is that Melbourne can experience four seasons in a day. But, really, it's just another example of how they have it all!

Sometimes, the best part of visiting a new city is when you unexpectedly depart from the tourist trail and glimpse the city's "real" side. While the big attractions can be great fun, often it's the more subtle "insider" experiences that leave you feeling really satisfied.

Further information on Melbourne is available from www.visitvictoria.com

Australian Culture & Values

Australia's multicultural society is made up of people from over 210 different nationalities, so it is difficult to define what is 'typical' in Australian culture or social customs.

However, there are some values most Australians consider important:

That people will be given a 'fair go'. This means, that you will be treated equitably.

Respect for the rights of the individual. In Australia there is an emphasis on individual achievement. Other students may not be greatly concerned about the opinions of friends and family, and may be more likely to make decisions based upon what they want for themselves.

Australia strives to be a democratic society. The aim is that people will be treated the same. Young people in Australia do not necessarily show others more respect because they're older. Academic staff may ask you to address them by their first name.

Australians believe in equality. People who work in "blue-collar" (non-professional) occupations are entitled to the same respect as those who work in the "white-collar" (professional) occupations. Questions of wealth and position are not used as a measure of an individual's merit or worth.

Social customs

Your own customs can be maintained within the Australian community and most Australians will understand your reasons. For example, if your religion prohibits you from eating certain foods or drinking alcohol, you will be able to maintain these customs. Please do not hesitate to point out politely that you cannot partake of what is being offered.

Physical contact

Australian men generally do not openly display strong affection for male friends. It is not common to see Australian men showing affection towards each other in public even if they are very close friends. The exception is while playing sport, and at family gatherings.

Women will more often display affection openly and this may take the form of hugging or greeting another woman with a kiss on the cheek.

Signs of affection between males and females are more common and it is quite normal to see men and women holding hands, walking arm-in-arm or kissing in public.

Appointments

In Australia it is considered rude not to keep an appointment once you have accepted an invitation. If you do not wish to accept an invitation, the custom is to say so immediately. It is also acceptable to express doubt as to your availability, and contact your 'host' later.

If you have a professional appointment that you are unable to attend you should call and reschedule or cancel before the appointment time, as it can appear very rude to just not attend.

Social events

Some behaviour is socially unacceptable and there are laws against it. For example, it is against the law to be drunk in public, to swear in public, to use indecent language, to behave in a sexually indecent way or to urinate in public. There are often Council rules against spitting (if you need to clear your throat or nose use a handkerchief or tissue). Noise must be kept at reasonable level even in your own home.

Parties can get noisy and boisterous particularly when a lot of alcohol is consumed. It can be upsetting for many people. If you are in this situation and feel you would like to leave, politely excuse yourself. No one will mind if you do so.

Invitations

The most common invitations are to dinner (often called tea) at someone's house (in which case it is polite but not compulsory to bring a small contribution, e.g. a bottle of wine or box of chocolates), to a party at someone's house, or going out for dinner or drinks at a pub, restaurant or café.

Punctuality

Punctuality is important, whether you have an appointment or have been invited to a social event. If you are running late, or need to cancel the appointment, it is considered polite to let the person know.

Queuing

When forming a queue to buy tickets, waiting for a bank teller or getting on a bus, it is considered impolite to push ahead of someone who was in the queue before you.

Environmentally friendly practices

Keep the environment tidy by placing food wrappers, drink cans, take-away food containers, plastic bags, newspapers etc. in rubbish bins. If these cannot be found, carry the rubbish with you until it can be deposited in a rubbish bin.

Smoking

In Victoria, smoking is not permitted in restaurants, bars and pubs or in public buildings, which includes all buildings on campus. Many Australians do not smoke and ask visitors to smoke outside when visiting their home.

Using Public Transport in Melbourne

Metropolitan Transport System – Public Transport Victoria www.ptv.vic.gov.au

It is easy to travel around Melbourne using public transport. The three types of public transport are bus, train and tram which all use the myki ticketing system. Two fare zones apply. The ticket you buy will depend upon the length of time you need and how far (within these zones) you need to travel. You can purchase the tickets from various retail outlets or train stations.

PLEASE NOTE THAT INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ARE NOT ENTITLED TO STUDENT TRAVEL CONCESSIONS.

ACE AREA IS SERVICED BY A LARGE NUMBER OF TRAM, BUS AND RAILWAY ROUTES. Normal hours of operation are from 5:00 a.m. to midnight, Monday to Saturday and from 8:00 a.m. to 11.00 p.m. on Sunday. Please ensure that you always carry a valid ticket. Inspectors often patrol trains, trams and buses. They have the power to fine you if you do not carry a valid ticket. Remember penalties are very expensive and failure to carry a valid ticket may involve an appearance in Court.

V/Line is a network of trains and luxury road coaches operating throughout country Victoria and to several interstate destinations. For V/Line travel information contact 132 232 (7:00 a.m. – 9:00 p.m. daily).

Obtaining a Driver's Licence in Melbourne

If you have a licence from your home country, you may use it for only three months, after which you must obtain a Victorian drivers licence.

If you have an International Permit, check with your embassy/Consulate as to its duration. For example, 12 month, two years, etc. Once it expires you must obtain a Victorian drivers licence.

In both instances you will be required to undertake the complete testing procedure in order to obtain a Victorian licence. As regulations change, it is suggested that you should contact Vic Roads to confirm that this information is current.

Car / Property Insurance

Under Victorian law all drivers are required to undertake compulsory third party insurance which is paid annually with your car registration. Under third party insurance you are only covered for personal injury and not for damage to cars or property. It is strongly advisable to take out car insurance which will cover you for damage to cars and property. Check the yellow pages telephone Directory for phone numbers of Insurance Companies. Compare prices and policies between companies before you take out a policy.

Banking services

Banking in Australia may be different from banking in your home country. However, the main functions may be the same: depositing and lending.

There are 4 major banks: Westpac, The Commonwealth, National Bank of Australia (NAB) and ANZ banks. There are also smaller banks. Branches of a number of overseas banks are located in Melbourne. Banks are the safest places to keep your money. Their funds are guaranteed by the Reserve Bank of Australia.

Other financial institutions include credit unions, finance companies, life insurance companies and merchant banks. Although these institutions may offer a higher rates of interest, these funds are not Government guaranteed.

How to Open Bank Account

Information needed to open an account includes your personal details, address, employment etc. You will be required by law to complete a form that asks:

- The name you wish the account to be in,
- Whether or not the account is held in trust,
- The name and residential address of all signatories,
- Any other name or any other signatory on the account.

Some banks may waive charges for students' accounts. It is worth investigating.

Proof of Identity

The law requires banks to verify the identity of each signatory to an account. As an International Student, the identification you will require to produce includes:

Residence of less than six weeks – Passport only.

Residence of more than six weeks – 100 points identification. This includes a passport and either a birth certificate, reference or credit cards

Tax File Number and Bank Accounts

The government requires that tax file number be given to the bank. To do so, obtain a form from the bank. If you do not give the bank your tax file number, almost 50% of interest gained will be taken out of your earnings as tax. If this happens, you may have to wait until you have submitted a tax return before you receive a refund for excess tax paid.

Credit Cards

Some students like to have credit cards but forget to repay the money owed. Debit cards may be a better idea. Lay-by may even be a better way to secure goods. Lay-by involves paying a small weekly amount of money on the goods purchased. Interest is not charged but goods must be repaid within a certain period. Many chain stores would hand you over the goods after paying a small deposit and then you are given time (about 12 months) to repay the balance, without charging you interest.

Automatic Teller Machines

One of the most convenient services provided by banks and other institutions is the ATM. There are some things to remember about ATM's. These are relatively easy and safe to use. Things can go wrong with ATMs. They can malfunction, eat your card or give the wrong balance. It is your responsibility to take care of your card, your PIN and your transactions with the bank. When you get your card, you get a list of 'conditions of use'. Read it.

Money from Overseas

Check with your bank for details. Students should be aware of any currency export restrictions in their home country.

Banking Ombudsman

If you get into a difficulty with your bank try to negotiate with its officials. If you do not get a satisfactory closing, you may refer the matter to the Banking Ombudsman. The Ombudsman will investigate your complaint on your behalf. The Ombudsman has the power to demand restitutions. It is a free service.

Postal services

Post offices are generally open 9am-5pm Monday to Friday. Mail is delivered once a day on weekdays only. Mail within Australia has a flat rate of postage for a standard letter. Non-standard letters and parcels are charged by weight and size.

International mail charges are calculated by weight, size, destination and mode of transport. You can also pay many utility bills at the post office (e.g. phone, gas, electricity).

More information is available from the Australia Post website. (auspost.com.au)

International Phone Call Services

International calls can be made direct from all phones in Australia, including payphones.

Simply dial the following:

International access code (0011);

Your country code (if you are unsure of the country code, dial 132 200 for information);

Area code for your city (remember not to dial the first zero);

International calls are timed and charged according to the destination, time of day and day of the week. Weekend rates are often much cheaper than rates during the week.

Please note that it can be very easy to make several hundred dollars' worth of international calls within a short period of time. You may wish to consider buying pre-paid international phone cards which usually offer cheaper rates and are available from most newsagencies and post offices.

Mobile Phone Services

It is suggested that you talk to students who have been in Australia for some time for tips on the best phone company and network to use. Some phone companies will not supply services to people who are temporary residents in Australia, but you can always use a pre-paid phone plan.

Pre-paid mobile phones also ensure that you will never be faced with an unexpectedly high mobile phone bill. Pre-paid mobile phones may be purchased at a number of retail outlets, including Australia Post.

While all students will have free and unlimited access to our internal student support services, it is acknowledged that in some instances, the support required by the student is beyond the capability of the SSSO (e.g. in the case of mental health issues) and more specialized external services are required.

In this instance, the SSSO will discuss with the student the appropriateness of a referral to ACE's external welfare provider - Psychology Melbourne. Referrals to psychological counselling and coordination of such services will be done at no cost to the student. The student, however, will be reminded of their responsibility to fund such external services, which is to be paid by the student directly to Psychology Melbourne. Should the student wish to proceed with this service, the SSSO will assist the student in arranging an appointment with one of the external welfare officers/psychologist.

Psychology Melbourne are equipped in providing guidance and support with general welfare issues, career counselling, coping with life changing events (e.g. moving overseas, change of cultural environment etc.) and managing mental health conditions (if applicable).

Finding Accommodation

Deciding where to live is one of the most important decisions you will make. You should consider what type of accommodation you would like prior to arriving in Melbourne. ACE officers will endeavour to advise students on this matter.

Please note that ACE does not offer any accommodation services and students are required to organise their own accommodation for their stay in Australia. Where a relative or friend is able to provide accommodation that is close to transport and within proximity to ACE's campus, students are being encouraged to take up this option. It is recommended that a student's accommodation is organized prior to the student's arrival in Australia.

Finding accommodation after you arrive in Melbourne may take some time. If you elect to find your accommodation after arrival in Melbourne you should arrive at least 2 weeks prior to the commencement of classes and you will need to have temporary accommodation in place while you secure your permanent accommodation.

Accommodation Options

The Student Support Officer (SSO) can provide information, advice, and guidance on the types of accommodation services available to students prior to arrival to Australia. The SSO can offer advice if a change in accommodation is required.

The types of accommodation available in Australia are many and varied. They include the following:

Private rental

($200 – $700 per week)

This is true independent living; renting an apartment or a house, either alone or with housemates. Living with others is ideal for meeting new people and reducing your costs. However, if you decide to live alone, you will have to pay for everything and may get lonely (depending on your personality, of course). Rentals come either furnished or unfurnished.

Note: Listed price is per room.

Shared rental

(on average, approximately $250 per week)

Sharing a rental property involves living in a rental property with housemates. Living with others is ideal for meeting new people and reducing your costs. Rentals come either furnished or unfurnished.

Note: Listed price is per room

Homestay

($220 - $375 per week)

Homestay involves staying with a family in their home with meals, internet and utilities covered by your host. It is a popular choice for a true Australian experience, and it also allows you to settle into your new life in Australia with the support of a family. Homestay can be both close to and some distance from your educational institution – make sure to check access and public transport options.

Purpose-built student accommodation

($200 - $500 per week)

These large centres are full of apartments of varying sizes, generally one to five bedrooms. You will get a fully furnished bedroom with 24-hour support and internet included. Generally, student accommodation is conveniently located for students, is secure and safe, and boasts a real sense of community. The downside to this is the internet can slow down at peak times and the rooms can be on the smaller side.

Residential college

($450 - $700 per week)

While they appear more expensive than other options, residential colleges do include a lot of extras. They're usually located close to campus, your fully furnished bedroom will be cleaned weekly, study facilities and gyms are supplied, and meals are included. The downside is that you often have to pay for the full academic year and may not need all the extras.

Tenancy Law

In Victoria there is a law to protect the rights of tenants (people who rent houses, flats, etc.) and landlords. It is important that you know your rights and obligations as a tenant.

Rent Accommodation

Before looking for a place to rent make sure that:

- The group you have decided to set up house with are reasonable and committed,
- You all agree on the maximum rent you are prepared to pay,
- The size of the house /flat and the suburb in which it is located.

Resources Available in House Hunting

ACE Student Services may have lists of available accommodation. Check with the office.

Newspapers: The classified section of the 'Age' newspaper on Wednesday and Saturday and the classified section of the Herald/Sun newspaper.

Estate Agents: Estate Agents have lists of houses and flats available for rent.

How to Rent Through an Agent

Check the Yellow Pages (under 'Real Estate Agents- Locality Guide', to find addresses of agents in the suburbs in which you desire to live in. You should visit Agents in the area you are interested in. Keep in constant touch with the Agent by phone until a property becomes available. Remember: Agents will NOT contact you if a suitable place comes up.

If you find a property you like, you may inspect it. The Agent will either show you the property or give you a key in exchange for a deposit. Make sure you get a receipt for the deposit. This money must be returned to you when you return the key.

If you find the place suitable, make an 'Application for Tenancy'. On this application the Agent will ask for the name and phone number of referees (previous Agents/Landlords, employer, parents or someone who can give you a character reference). The Agent/Landlord will decide on the basis of your application whether or not they want you as a tenant.

Application Forms and Deposits

Agents will usually give you an application form to fill in. These can often ask detailed personal questions (like bank account numbers). If you think a question is too personal, do not answer it. Agents and owners will also often ask for an 'Application Deposit', when you apply for a place. If you do not get the place, or if they rent it to you, you receive the money back. BUT if you get the place and do not take it or withdraw your application, they can keep the deposit you paid. Be careful to pay an application deposit only when you are sure that you want the place.

Tenancy Agreement or Lease

When you get the place you want, you usually sign a ‘Tenancy Agreement’ or ‘Lease’. You can have a fixed term tenancy (usually 6 or 12 months). If you sign a lease, make sure that you want to stay for the whole duration of the lease. It is possible to break a lease but this can be very expensive. Make sure all members of the household understand the ‘Tenancy Agreement’ and if possible, all members sign it. This will make all members legally responsible.

Bonds

Agents or Landlords keep a sum of money (called a ‘Bond’) they collect from you in an approved Trust Fund. The amount of the bond is usually equal to one month rent. The bond is held in trust against any damage (outside of normal wear and tear) caused by you during the term of tenancy. If you leave the property clean and in good condition, then your bond should be returned to you in full.

Condition Report

A condition report is a list of all the rooms in your place: What is in them, and what condition they are in (good, fair or poor repair). You MUST get two copies of the report when you move in. You should sign them after carefully checking the property (you are allowed three days). Send one copy to the Agent/Landlord and keep the other copy in a safe place. The condition report is important when getting your bond back. It is proof of the condition of the place. Remember if an Agent or Landlord wishes to keep part or your entire bond, they must make an application to the Consumer Affairs Victoria to get approval. You will then notify CAV as whether or not you agree with this. (1300 558 181)

Sharing a Rental House or Flat

Sharing a place can be an enjoyable experience. Yet not surprisingly people sharing places can have troubles with the co-occupiers. Whether you know a person well or not, one of the most important factors to consider is how well you would get on as roommates. There is no way you can be sure of a perfectly happy co-existence, no matter how honest and careful you were. However, by talking about some simple practical lifestyle matters before making a commitment to live together, you can save yourself considerable headache.

What to Consider When Sharing a Rental House or Flat

Some Ideas You Should Consider When Sharing are:

- Lifestyle
 - Does everyone like having parties?
 - Smoking/Drinking? Maybe you do not, but you do mind if others around you do?
 - Overnight visitors?
 - Do you want an all-student household?
- Housekeeping
 - How neat and clean do you like the place to be?
 - How will you organise the cleaning? Who will do it? And how will this be decided?
- Food/Eating

- What foods do you like e.g.: meat/vegetables?
- Do you plan to share cooking and share food costs?
- Do you want to buy your own food?

Sharing Lease/Bills/Rent

If your name is on the lease, you can be held responsible for the actions of all the tenants. If a co-tenant leaves without paying the rent, you can be held responsible for all the rent owing. It is probably a good idea to have all the names of people living in the household on the lease and the bills. In such case, it is less likely that one person gets stuck with the entire responsibility.

Buying Second-Hand Furniture and Goods in Melbourne

Here is a list of some shops which sell relatively cheap furniture and household goods. These are close to ACE.

Brotherhood of St. Lawrence	132 Barkly St., Brunswick. Ph. 9388 1093 [Furniture] 109 Brunswick Rd., Brunswick. Ph. 9387 9519 [Clothing]
Salvos Stores	740 Sydney Rd., Brunswick Ph. 9386 4080 [Clothing, furniture]
Coburg Auctions	241 Sydney Rd., Coburg Ph. 9386 6292 [Furniture]
Vinnies Centre	260 Sydney Rd. Ph. 9386 6666 [Furniture, clothing, household goods]

The Trading Post is a weekly newspaper available at most news agents. It lists second-hand furniture and goods. It is also online www.tradingpost.com.au.

Students buying second-hand furniture need to be aware that transportation of large furniture and goods may incur extra cost. Ensure that goods bought are in good and safe condition.

Information You Should Know

You should have a multiple entry visa lasting for the duration of your course. This will enable you to return home for your holidays. If you hold a single-entry permit, you will then have to reapply for a re-entry visa from the Department of Home Affairs every time you leave or enter the country.

You must be enrolled as a full-time student and must also attend at least 80% of your classes. If you are ill, you must notify Student Services and obtain a certificate from a doctor. If you break this Condition of Stay, you will be reported to the Department of Home Affairs. The Department will cancel your entry permit and you will be deported.

You must have a current passport. You can renew it at your government's consulate or embassy at least six months before the date of expiry. Australian Immigration Officials cannot issue visas beyond the expiry date of your passport.

Sponsoring Dependents

Students must be enrolled in a course of more than 12 months duration if they wish to bring their dependents along to Australia while they are studying. To sponsor your family, contact the nearest regional office of the Department of Home Affairs. The closest one to ACE is located at Casselden Place, 2 Lonsdale Street, Melbourne, and VIC 3000. Telephone (03) 9635 6500.

Customs Regulations

There are many students who are charged for not declaring animal and plant products they bring into Australia. These products include dried meat and seafood, powders, spices, herbs, garlic and other animal and plant products. Fines for each of these offences are quite high.

It is best to check with your nearest Australian High Commissioner or Embassy as to the types of products you can and cannot bring into Australia.

Please note that if you are bringing computers, cameras or other types of goods into the country, you will have to pay duty on these items. This can be quite considerable payments.

You must:

- Indicate on your Customs Declaration Form ALL foodstuff you are carrying. You must declare everything. It is too late to tell Customs at the airport.
- If in doubt, declare all animal and plant products you may be carrying.
- If you are given parcels to bring into Australia, find out what is in them. Not knowing what you had in your luggage is not an acceptable excuse in Court.
- On the aircraft, you may ask for a Declaration Form in your own language.

How to Find Services for the Family

Entry of spouses and children into Australia

For full fee students, all enquiries should be directed to the nearest regional office of the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) or the Australian Consulate in your country or region.

Sponsored students who wish to bring their family into Australia should consult with their sponsor organisation to obtain the correct entry information, their entitlement conditions and that of their family.

ACE's Commitment to Students

ACE is highly committed to provide students with the fundamental rights protected by the ESOS framework. The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe, enjoyable and rewarding place to study. Australia's laws promote quality education and consumer protection for overseas students. These laws are known as the ESOS framework and they include the Education Services for Overseas (ESOS) Act 2000 and the National Code for Providers of Education and Training to Overseas Students 2018.

Protection for overseas students

Overseas students on a student visa must study with an education provider and in a course that can be found on the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS) at <https://cricos.education.gov.au/>. CRICOS registration guarantees that the course and the education provider at which study is undertaken meets the high standards necessary for overseas students.

Student Rights

The ESOS standards covers a range of information students have a right to know about and the services that must be offered to them by ACE. These include:

- Receive current and accurate information about the courses, entry requirements, all fees and modes of study from your institution and your institution's agent before you enrol
- Sign a written agreement with your institution before or at the time you pay fees. You do not have to pay the institution any money or fees until you accept the agreement
- Seek a refund in certain situations for course money you have paid. Information about refund arrangements must be included in your written agreement
- Get the education you paid for. The law includes tuition protections that will allow you to be placed in another course or receive a refund if your institution is unable to teach your course (known as a provider default), visit <https://tps.gov.au/> for more information
- Access complaints and appeals processes
- Request to transfer to another institution and have that request assessed by your institution.

Information about visa conditions for student visa holders is available on the Department of Home Affairs' website at <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-finder/study>

Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015

Before you start officially, it is recommended that you follow all the enrolment steps. ACE has a standard process to ensure that you have successfully undertaken each step towards your enrolment. The process includes: reviewing the entry requirements, completing an enrolment form, attaching certified true or original copies of the following documents, Year 12 academic statement (or equivalent), Testamurs and/or Statements of Attainment for Nationally Recognised Training qualification(s), IELTS Certificate, Visa Grant Notification, Letter of Release (if applicable), OSHC cover (if already obtained) and current Passport (valid for the next 6 months or more), providing a list of any relevant work experience, and submitting these to ACE.

Once ACE receives a students' enrolment, they will review the application to determine eligibility and once found fit will send the prospective student a Letter of Offer and Student Acceptance Agreement. The student should carefully read the terms of the Letter of Offer and Student Acceptance Agreement, including the tuition fees and payment options.

Upon receipt of the Letter of Offer and Student Acceptance Agreement the student, if willing to proceed with the enrolment process, must sign the Letter of Offer and Student Acceptance Agreement and make arrangements to make payment of the enrolment fee (non-refundable). Payment can be made via Cheque, Money Order, Credit Card (in person at ACE's Head Office) or via Electronic Transfer of Funds to ACE's Bank Account as follows:

Pre-Enrolment Information

All prospective learners prior to enrolment will be assessed to determine the competency(s) that they may have acquired through formal, non-formal and informal learning to determine the extent to which that individual meets the requirements specified in the training package.

This assessment will help ACE determine the amount of training it will provide to each learner with regard to their existing skills, knowledge and the experience of the learner.

Recognition of Prior Learning

ACE shall offer RPL to students to assess their previously acquired skills and knowledge, which were achieved either through formal, non-formal or informal learning, against the requirements of a qualification or a unit of competence, where:

- a. formal learning shall refer to learning that takes place through a structured program of instruction and is linked to the attainment of an AQF qualification or statement of attainment (for example, a certificate, diploma or university degree);
- b. non-formal learning shall refer to learning that takes place through a structured program of instruction, but does not lead to the attainment of an AQF qualification or statement of attainment (for example, in-house professional development programs conducted by a business); and

- c. informal learning shall refer to learning that results through experience of work-related, social, family, hobby or leisure activities (for example the acquisition of interpersonal skills developed through several years as a sales representative).

ACE shall collect from the student applying for RPL an evidence portfolio to support the claim of prior learning.

Evidence may include but not limited to:

- a. Demonstration of skill or competence, (supplemented by assessment of the knowledge underpinning such skills);
- b. Reflective papers, journals or portfolios that relate past learning to the learning or competency outcomes of the current unit of competence;
- c. Provision of examples of the student's work drawn from the workplace, social, community or other setting in which the student applies their learning, skill or competence;
- d. testimonials of learning, skill or competence; or
- e. a combination of any of the above.

Credit Transfer

ACE shall accept and provide credit to students for nationally endorsed qualifications, skill sets and units of competency (unless licensing or regulatory requirements prevent this) where these are evidenced by:

- a. AQF certification documentation issued by any other RTO or AQF authorised issuing organisation; or
- b. Authenticated VET transcripts issued by the Registrar

Students shall not be required to repeat any unit or module in which they have already been assessed as competent unless regulatory requirement or license condition (including an industry licensing scheme) requires this.

In the case of any non-equivalent units of competency, ACE shall complete a gap analysis to determine the equivalence of the study completed with the relevant units or modules before granting any credit.

- a. When the unit of competency has been reviewed and this has resulted in minor changes to the unit code or title (e.g., A code to B code), but the outcomes of the unit have remained substantially the same and there is at least 80% commonality with the original unit;
- b. When the unit has been transferred from another Training Package/curriculum and recoded, but the learning outcomes remain the same.

Before providing credit on the basis of a qualification, statement of attainment or record of results, ACE shall authenticate the information either by directly accessing the USI transcript online or by contacting the organisation that issued the document to confirm the content is valid.

ACE shall not be obliged to issue a qualification or statement of attainment that is achieved wholly through recognition of units and/or modules completed at another RTO.

Tuition Protection Services

The TPS will help you quickly find another course. If your provider can't deliver the course you have paid for. The TPS will use online placement service to give you all the information you need so you understand your options and can choose an alternative course that best suits you. Additional assistance will be available if you need it. You will still have to meet all the course entry requirements of another provider and any extra costs if the provider is more expensive than the one you originally enrolled with.

- The Tuition Protection Service or TPS is a placement and refund service for international students
- From 1st July 2012, the TPS has replaced the Tuition Assurance Scheme (TAS) arrangements and the ESOS Assurance Fund
- The TPS is like insurance cover with premiums based on risk. It will aim to place students in an alternative course first and pay refunds only as last resort.
- The TPS includes strengthened governance arrangements for greater accountability to government.
- A limit of up to 50 percent of total tuition fees may be collected prior to student commencement (unless the course is 24 weeks or less)
- Student refunds will be based on unexpected tuition fees (rather than on total course cost as previously)

Student Support Seminars:

Student Support Services Officers also run regular seminars on 'hot topics' or areas where students often need additional assistance. Information about when seminars are held and the content of the sessions is available on the noticeboard of each campus or by contacting your local Student Support Services Officer.

Day-to-Day Student Support Services

ACE provides the opportunity for students to participate in additional services designed to assist students in maintaining their attendance and improve their progress throughout the course.

Student Support Services are provided to all students on one to one and small groups' bases during each term. Student Support Services Officers will endeavor to approach students generally from time to time to identify the area of supports that the students may need in the all aspects of their academic or personal concerns.

ACE will have Student Support Services Officers on site during normal business hours, 9:00am to 5:00pm Monday to Friday.

Academic Progress

Students are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress as a condition of their visa. This progress is monitored by ACE on a monthly basis. Courses under twelve months duration may be monitored more frequently. Support and guidance will be given where progress is not being achieved or where a student is unable to maintain competency in at least 50% of the total number of units assessed in a study period.

Attendance in practical classes and in class assessments.

Due to the practical nature of many of ACE's qualifications (particularly courses in Automotive and Cookery streams) and the fact that assessment is often held in class, ACE students are expected to attend all practical classes. Failure to attend classes will result in missed assessments which will impact the student's ability to maintain an adequate level of course progress.

For more information, please see ACE's website for the Monitoring Course Progress Policy and Procedure and Student Code of Conduct Policy and Procedures, via www.ace.vic.edu.au.

Student Conduct

Students are required to follow all rules of ACE and the instructions from ACE staff. Students are required to act in a non-discriminatory manner at all times and respect the rights of others. Students are also required to adhere to academic rules and regulations as directed by ACE or its representatives. Where a student is found to have acted in a way that ACE deems to be misconduct, ACE may implement disciplinary action.

For more information, please see ACE's website for its Student Code of Conduct Policy and Procedure, which covers Occupational Health and Safety, Respect for Others, Plagiarism and Cheating / Academic Misconduct, Dress and Hygiene, Smoking, Drugs and Alcohol, Theft and/or Abuse of Property of ACE, other Students and

Harassment

Sexual Harassment

Sexual Harassment is UNWANTED and UNWELCOME sexual attention. It may be sexual harassment when someone:

- Leers at you
- Touches or brushes against your body
- Persists in asking you out after you have said 'NO'
- Tells dirty jokes in your presence
- Displays offensive printed material
- Emailing and SSM offensive material
- Makes unwelcome comments or asks questions about your personal life or sexual habits
- Tries to force you to have sex.

What if you're not sure you're being sexually harassed?

If the behaviours made you feel:

- Offended
- Intimidated
- Upset
- Frightened
- Humiliated
- Angry
- Or that someone went too far... then it is sexual harassment.

You don't have to put up with sexual harassment. You may feel you have to keep quiet about sexual harassment or even play along with it. You may feel that if you do object to sexual harassment you will be seen as over-reacting or unable to take a joke. But remember:

- Sexual harassment is not flattering or harmless fun
- It is not friendship, or part of normal social relationships
- It is unwanted and unwelcome sexual attention which denies you respect and fair treatment
- You have every right to object and do something about it.

Is sexual harassment against the law?

State and Commonwealth legislation outlays sexual harassment as a form of sex discrimination. ACE takes its obligations under this legislation very seriously and will not tolerate sexual harassment.

If you are sexually harassed:

- Tell the person you find their behaviour offensive. Keep a record of the incident
- Talk to your Student Support Officer for personal advice and support in dealing with the feelings caused by the harassment
- Report the complaint to the CEO or any Staff member at ACE. Everyone can support you in this process - all complaints will be treated confidentially

Other Harassment

Bullying, intimidation, abuse of power are other examples of harassment or workplace violence. Students who have such concerns should discuss them with PEO or any Staff member so that appropriate action can be taken.

Disciplinary Procedures

ACE will not tolerate conduct that compromises its high standards of ethics, or honesty, lack of consideration for fellow students, trainers or other Staff, unruly behaviour, bullying or any form of abuse (physical or verbal) of others, lack of respect for the property of others or any other unsavoury conduct. Where this is found to have taken place by a student, the management of ACE will invoke disciplinary procedures.

In the case of students, depending on the severity of the event this action may include:

- One or more written warnings regarding the transgression.
- Dismissal from the course without refund of fees paid, or credit for learning granted.
- Dismissal from the course and reporting the student to the Police if the situation warrants.

Discrimination

It is illegal to discriminate against someone because of their nationality, sex or religion. Unfortunately racism does exist in Australia. The Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commission can act on your behalf if you think you are being discriminated against. It is located at Level 3, 204 Lygon Street, Carlton 3053. You may contact their Enquiry Line on 1300 292 153 or email enquiries@veohrc.vic.gov.au. For more information, visit their website <https://www.humanrights.vic.gov.au/get-help/contact-us/>

Equal Opportunity

Australian equal opportunity legislation protects people involved in the training system. Under this legislation it is unlawful to discriminate or harass people at work, in education institutions or in the community. Examples of Australian equal opportunity legislation are the:

- Racial Discrimination Act 1975
- Sex Discrimination Act 1984
- Disability Discrimination Act 1992

States and Territories also have equal opportunity legislation.

Access and Equity

ACE is committed, through the principle of inclusiveness, to increasing and enhancing educational opportunities and participation for all students irrespective of whether they have a disability. ACE's Access and Equity Policy outlines:

- The processes for disclosure of disability – both at the time of enrolment/employment and during the course of study/employment.
- The processes for making reasonable adjustment – be this in terms of teaching techniques or in terms of assessment practices.
- Facilities, administrative and marketing issues as the impact on the participation of students with a disability.

Complaints and Appeals

Students have access to ACE's Complaints and Appeals process. This process allows for the fair and equitable consideration and determination of any grievances or complaints against ACE in respect of the student assessment process, academic or attendance records and any other concern the student may have.

Students are encouraged to raise any matters of concern and discuss issues with the relevant Trainer, Course Coordinator or Student Support services but also engage the formal procedure as required. All parties can have a more clear understanding of the end to end procedure, steps involved with timeframes and representation offered as detailed in ACE's Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure.

For more information, please see ACE's website for the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure, via www.ace.vic.edu.au.

Deferring, Suspending and Cancelling an Enrolment

Standard 13 of the National Code 2018 allows students to defer commencement of studies, temporarily suspend their studies or cancel their enrolment in certain circumstances. Students wishing to defer, suspend or cancel must follow ACE's process as outlined in the Deferment, Suspension and Cancellation Policy and Procedure. As these absences may affect the student's visa the student must be accordingly advised. Similarly, ACE can seek to cancel or suspend a student's enrolment in certain circumstances.

For more information, please see ACE's website for Deferment, Suspension and Cancellation of Enrolment Policy and Procedure, via www.ace.vic.edu.au.

Transfer between Registered Providers

Under the National Code 2018 Standard 7, students must meet certain conditions before they can enrol with another education provider if they are unhappy with the course they are doing.

The National Code indicates that a student must have a letter of release from their education provider before they can enrol with a new provider if they have not completed 6 months of their principal course (the main course of study they are undertaking). If a student wishes to transfer before they have completed six months of their principal course, they need their provider's permission.

ACE has a documented policy and procedure about transferring between registered providers. Students are encouraged to read and ensure they understand this policy, and what their written agreement says is required of a student, before making a decision to enrol with ACE.

For more information, please see ACE's website for Transfer between Registered Providers Policy and Procedure, via www.ace.vic.edu.au.
